

AQA at AEA-Europe 2025

AQA is the UK's largest provider of national school exams and assessments. Through AQA Global Assessment Services, we also support education and assessment around the world.

Our experts at AEA-Europe 2025 share insights into fairness in digital assessment, AI-supported feedback and marking, and inclusive curriculum and assessment design. Their presentations span foundational frameworks and emerging technologies, highlighting the breadth and impact of our research.

aqa.org.uk/about-us/our-research

research@aqa.org.uk

 @AQA

AQA
Questions matter

Abilities aren't numbers: Alfred Binet and the road not taken in educational assessment (Paper)

Alex Scharaschkin

What shapes impressions of the new Curriculum for Wales? Understanding the perceptions of teachers, learners and parents/carers using a new theory of change (Paper)

Laura Verdasco Menendez, Ben Tylden-Smith, Claire Sinnema, Hefin Thomas, Gillian Parkinson, Joanne Davis

Evaluating AI-generated feedback: Insights on usefulness, accuracy, relevance and actionability (Paper)

Lucy Howarth, Katie Gilmartin

Curriculum for Wales: Insights from the inaugural stakeholder surveys (Paper)

Gillian Parkinson, Ben Tylden-Smith, Hefin Thomas, Joanne Davis, Laura Verdasco Menendez, Claire Sinnema

Capturing diverse student voices in assessment (Symposium)

Katy Finch (Chair)

Trialling a new numeracy product: Capturing students' experiences of maths learning in further education and alternative provision settings (Paper)

Sheradan Miller, Faye Walker

Lost in transcription: Why accuracy matters in AI marking (Poster)

Katie Gilmartin, Lucy Howarth

In the eye of the digital storm: A blind spot for fairness in screen-based learning? (Poster)

Christopher Vincent

From pen to keyboard: Is fairness affected by mode of input? (Poster)

Faye Walker, Alina Husain, Christopher Vincent, Victoria Armstrong

An adaptive national assessment: Technical and policy challenges and insights (Paper)

Andrew Boyle, Chris Hope

aqaglobal.com

info@aqaglobal.com

 @AQA-Global

AQA
Global Assessment
Services